Hi. I'm Kenny, a frontend developer based in Cardiff, UK. I'm an enthusiastic and driven individual with a huge amount of passion and care for my craft. I'm a perfectionist at nature, which I believe is a superpower in my field. It empowers me to push myself to explore effective and efficient solutions to problems whilst delivering the highest possible standard of output in any given task; with a mindset dedicated to meticulously crafted products and experiences. If something isn't done properly; why bother doing it?
